Self-Reflections

Presented in Partnership with the Elizabeth Fry Society

March 8 to 31, 2016

MacLaren Art Centre, Barrie, ON

In celebration of International Women's Day, the MacLaren Art Centre is pleased to present Self-Reflections, an exhibition of portraits created by staff and clients of the Elizabeth Fry Society of Simcoe County, exploring personal narrative, identity and thoughtful reflection.

Led by regional artist Teresa Moore, nine women participated in a painting workshop at the Joyce Kope House in Barrie. Inspired by a variety of Modern Art portrait styles, Moore demonstrated the materials and techniques of acrylic painting on canvas along with basic concepts of facial proportions. For many of these women, opportunities for artistic expression are few and far between.

The resulting portraits are testaments to the lived experience of these women—how they see themselves, their hopes and self-reflections. As Joy Thompson, Executive Director of the Elizabeth Fry Society, states, "Living experience of homelessness, violence and criminalization should not mean that women's lives are not valued; even though the women we serve here are too often invisible to most people in our communities. So, what better way to be visible than to paint your own portrait! The self-portraits painted by women are such a strong assertion of the right to be noticed, to be respected and to be included."

About the Elizabeth Fry Society of Simcoe County

The Elizabeth Fry Society of Simcoe County has been providing critical services across Simcoe County and in the Muskokas since 1991. We are guided by our mission to support, advocate and empower individuals at risk to enrich their lives and to inspire positive change in our community. Since humble beginnings 25 years ago we have grown into a vibrant, relevant and greatly needed organization that last year provided 5,146 safe bed-nights to 546 homeless women, facilitated alternatives and diversion from the criminal justice system for 384 youth and 728 adults and were the Trustee for 60 youth. 470 adults were provided with parole support, jail visitation and community and institutional programming to assist in building stable and hopeful lives. Our vision is healthy, hopeful and empowered individuals, supported by a community that understands the challenges, stigmas and systemic barriers faced by those we service.
